PROGRAM OUTCOMES - BCA

PO1: Proficiency in Programming: Graduates will demonstrate proficiency in various programming languages and be able to develop software solutions using industry-standard coding practices.

PO2: Problem-Solving Skills: Graduates will possess strong analytical and problem-solving skills, enabling them to effectively identify and resolve complex issues in the field of computer applications.

PO3: Application Development: Graduates will be capable of designing, developing, and deploying software applications across diverse platforms, catering to the needs of various industries and domains.

PO4: Information Management: Graduates will understand the principles of database management systems and information technology, allowing them to efficiently manage, store, and retrieve data in organizational settings.

PO5: Communication and Collaboration: Graduates will effectively communicate technical concepts and collaborate with multidisciplinary teams to develop innovative solutions, demonstrating strong interpersonal and teamwork skills.

PO6: Professionalism and Ethical Responsibility: Graduates will exhibit professionalism and ethical responsibility in their work, adhering to industry standards and legal regulations while upholding integrity and confidentiality in all aspects of their profession.